The FortiGate-5000 Series security systems, FortiGuard subscription services and management and analysis systems from Fortinet, a provider of multi-threat security solutions, have been purchased by Swisscom Mobile AG, a provider of mobile communications services in Switzerland.

Swisscom Mobile will use Fortinet's solutions to establish a defence platform to protect its 4.5m customer base from mobile cyber threats. It selected FortiGate-500 Series for its security, flexibility and scalability and is using the systems, along with FortiGuard Antivirus, Intrusion Prevention (IPS) and Web Content Filtering subscription services.

The FortiGate-5000 security systems comply with the ATCA standard for next-generation carrier-grade communications equipment and can be configured in various ways to ensure maximum performance, security, reliability and scalability. The systems offer network and content protection through the integration of anti-virus, VPN, firewall, IPS, anti-spyware, anti-spam, web filtering and traffic shaping and are updated through FortiGuard subscription services.

According to Swisscom Mobile, it is taking a proactive approach to protecting customers against the mobile malware which could affect subscribers through communications tools such as e-mail, MMS or web traffic.
