Features

No hassle phone service
The FortiVoice Cloud is a hosted PBX and a phone service, all in one. This means that adding phone numbers is as easy as just a few clicks. Forget about dealing with multiple support lines. If you need help, the FortiVoice technical assistance team is a one-stop solution. They know the FortiVoice and they know how to help you.

BIG features
You will get great features such as auto attendants, conferencing, voicemail and faxing. That’s not all. Manage your users with powerful user privileges and call handling features. Users can even log into their own user interface to listen and download their voicemail or send faxes directly from their PC. We know, it sounds like there’s a lot here and we promise it’s very easy to use.

Goodbye fax machine
The FortiVoice Cloud offers the ability to send faxes right from your PC with just a couple of clicks. Why use a fax machine when you can receive faxes directly in your email with the fax to email feature. Unplug that fax machine and say hello to the future.

How do I do that?
Most help files can be confusing and don’t really help at all. Not so with the FortiVoice Cloud! No longer will you need to wonder how to configure a feature thanks to our detailed how-to section, giving you a step-by-step process for setting up any of the features.

FortiVoice Cloud security and service availability
FortiVoice Cloud encrypts all configuration and log data within the cloud. This security measure makes sure that your data is secure. The FortiVoice Cloud seamlessly utilizes redundant data centers for high availability, helping to ensure your business is always up and running.

How does it work?
FortiVoice Cloud offers a single management point that can be accessed from anywhere. Configuration is handled within the web based interface on the cloud. You can easily configure a new extension that could be physically located in the office, at home or any other location in the world. Scaling from one extension to many can be done within just a few clicks.
