

The Biggest Security Challenges Facing Financial Services Organizations

As they put digital transformation plans into action, financial institutions face a number of security challenges that impact their business. From new work-from-home initiatives to concerns surrounding compliance, the financial sector is grappling with both new security issues and traditional problems. Here's what they perceive as being their biggest threats.

Endpoint and Cloud Security are Top-of-mind for Financial Services

What are your biggest security challenges?

Compliance Confidence is not High Due to Digital Transformation

On a scale of 1 to 5, rank how confident you are in your regulatory compliance as a result of new technologies implemented due to digital transformation.

Over 50% of Financial Institutions Report Difficulty Scaling Work-from-home Services

On a scale of 1 to 5, rate the difficulty of scaling work-from-home services.

Over 80% of Financial Institutions Ranked Security as Important for SD-WAN

Rank the importance of security in choosing an SD-WAN solution.

Visit www.fortinet.com/financialservices for more information on how to solve security challenges for the financial services sector.