

ACADEMY MISSION

- Prepare students for a career in network security
- Enable students through theoretical lecture and hands on laboratory practice to achieve a Fortinet certification
- Build a workforce skilled in all aspects of Fortinet's network security platform who will be recognized in the industry among an elite group of security professionals

Fortinet Network Security Academy

The Fortinet Network Security Academy (FNSA) program is designed to provide industry recognized Fortinet training and certification opportunities to students around the world. The Academy is collaborating with academic institutions, non-profit agencies, and veteran programs providing a framework for students to become part of an elite group of cybersecurity professionals. Fortinet sponsors the training content and exam vouchers for each Academy site, along with supporting instructor preparation.

FNSA was created to address the international shortage of cybersecurity experts and to build a workforce skilled in all aspects of Fortinet's network security platform who will be recognized in the industry among an elite group of security professionals. The Academy brings the training and certification opportunities previously only offered to Fortinet customers, employees and partners to educational institutions, non-profit organizations and veterans programs. Students, leave the program with the skills needed to help protect global organizations from cyber threats.

Demand for information security professionals is expected to grow by 53% through 2018

Organizations Around the Globe Have Joined the Fortinet Network Security Academy

Organizations around the world are seeing the benefits of cybersecurity training for their students.

Twenty additional organizations are expected to become Academy sites within the next few months.
